

Montney Coquina

The background of the image consists of several vertical panels. On the left, there is a geological cross-section showing a dark, textured layer (likely shale) with a white, stepped structure (possibly a well or a fault) extending upwards. To the right of this are several panels of seismic data, each showing a grid of black and white lines representing waveforms. A central vertical strip, possibly a well log or a specific seismic profile, is highlighted in orange and yellow. The text 'Montney Coquina' is written in a large, black, sans-serif font across the center of the image, overlaid on the yellow banner.
